FAIR LENDING POLICY & ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Introduction

Princeton Mortgage Corporation (the “Company”) is committed to treating all Applicants and Borrowers in a fair and equitable manner. As part of this commitment, the Company has developed a Fair Lending Policy, which promotes compliance with applicable fair lending laws, including the Equal Credit Opportunity Act (ECOA) and Fair Housing Act. As a Broker, the Company requests that you review the fair lending expectations and acknowledge and confirm that you operate in accordance with fair lending laws as they apply to your business with the Company.

Fair Lending Laws

The purpose of fair lending laws is to ensure that fair and equal treatment is provided to individuals seeking sales financing. The ECOA, and its implementing regulation, prohibits discrimination in any aspect of a credit transaction. The Fair Housing Act, and its implementing regulations, contain similar prohibitions against discrimination with respect to the origination or purchase of loans secured by real estate.

Collectively, the Company, ECOA, and the Fair Housing Act prohibit discrimination based on the following: race or color; religion; national origin; sex; marital status; age (provided that the applicant has the capacity to enter a binding contract); receipt of public assistance income; familial status; handicap; sexual orientation or gender identify; or the exercise of any right under the Consumer Credit Protection Act.

Acknowledgement

The Company is committed to complying with all applicable fair lending laws. It is Company policy to make credit products available to all Applicants who meet the Company’s credit requirements in a fair and consistent manner within the confines of safe and sound business practices.

Additionally, the Company conducts routine monitoring of third parties for fair lending compliance and reserves the right to take action against third parties where fair lending risks or violations are identified.

LOAN FRAUD ZERO TOLERANCE

Each Broker who executes an Agreement and agrees to conduct business with Lender must be aware that the Broker bears the responsibility for all actions performed in the course of its business by its employees, agents or licensees. The Broker is responsible for the content and quality of each Application taken and each Mortgage Loan submitted to Lender. It is Lender's policy and intent to support the abolition of loan fraud and predatory lending practices within the residential mortgage lending marketplace.

Types of Loan Fraud (not all encompassing)

- Submission of inaccurate or incomplete information, including false statements on Applications and falsification of documents to substantiate credit, employment, deposit and asset information, personal information including identity, ownership and occupancy of real property, etc.
- Forgery of all documentation and information whether accurate or inaccurate.
- Incorrect statements regarding the current occupancy or intent to occupy as stated in the security instrument.
- Lack of due diligence by Broker/loan officer/interviewer/processor, including failure to obtain all information required by the Application and failure to request further information as dictated by Borrower's response to questions.
- Unquestioned acceptance of information or documentation that is known, should be known, or should be suspected to be inaccurate or incomplete.
- Simultaneous or consecutive processing of multiple owner-occupied Mortgage Loans from one applicant supplying different information on each Application.
- Allowing an applicant or interested third party to assist with the processing of the Mortgage Loan.
- Broker's non-disclosure of relevant information.

The effects of loan fraud are costly to all parties involved. Lender stands behind the quality of its loan production. Fraudulent loans cannot be sold into the secondary market and, if sold, will require repurchase by Lender. Fraudulent loans damage Lender's reputation with its investors and mortgage insurance providers. The price paid by those who participate in loan fraud is even more costly. The following are a few of the potential consequences that may be incurred: 1) criminal prosecution; 2) loss of Broker's license; 3) loss of Lender access due to exchange of information between lenders, mortgage insurance companies including submission of information to investors (Freddie Mac/Fannie Mae), police agencies, and state & federal agencies; 4) civil action by Lender; 5) civil action by applicant/Borrower or other parties to the transaction; 6) loss of approval status with Lender.

By signing below, you certify that you have read and understand Lender's position on loan fraud.
